Pastoral Reflections – “We believe...”

On Sunday, June 2nd, five of our young people affirmed the promises that were made to them in baptism: John & Jennifer Gerfen, Angelina Giacomelli, Jasmine Moscato and Victoria Sciarra. It is such a blessing to see these young people share their witness about their beliefs and understandings about God. It is a joy to watch them as they grow in faith over the years.

One of the highlights for me is to hear the ways in which they express their faith in their own statements of faith that they are each asked to write. They share what it is that they believe about God and God’s role in their life and in the world.

What do you believe about God? What might your own statement of faith include?

During worship, we profess together our faith using the words of the Apostles’ or Nicene Creeds that were developed by the early church in the 4th century (and there is also the Athanasian Creed). It began as a way to clarify the beliefs of the Church as many different understandings were at work, particularly in relationship to Christ’s divinity and humanity.

More than stating what we believe as a matter of doctrine, creeds and statements of faith express our relationship with God and the role of God in our lives and in the world. It is not about adhering to particular doctrines, but proclaiming the centrality of God in our midst. Through these Creeds, we profess the ways that we have experienced God as Creator, as our Savior and as the Spirit who continues to act in our lives today.

So, I share with you the witness of these five young people as they have made public profession of their faith and trust in God.

Peace in Christ, Pastor Jen

Jennifer Gerfen:

I believe that God, our Father, created Heaven and Earth and sacrificed his only son to save humanity from sin. I believe that God is caring, loving, and forgiving, and that He has guided me throughout my years. I want to be confirmed in order to affirm and accept my faith and to carry it into every aspect of my life. I’m very grateful to God for doing so much for me, and being confirmed will allow me to strengthen my connection with him in Christ.

John Gerfen

I believe in the Holy Trinity, that God gave his only son to save humanity from our sins. I believe that God’s grace extends out to all who seek it. He’s firm yet fair and blesses you with what you need and not always what you want. I believe that God has a plan for all of us yet we are able to exercise free will, and all who believe in Jesus Christ our lord will have God’s gift of heaven

---

bestowed upon them. I believe in God's angels and heaven and hell and the fact that God created the universe. I believe that God's love knows no bounds and God's love changes everything.

Angelina Giacomelli:

I believe God created all things from the beautiful atmosphere to my friends and family.

Jasmine Moscato

We were created to sin, If we were all perfect and don't sin we wouldn't need God to send Jesus down. Even if we sin God has the same love for us and that won't go away even if we don't go to him for a while. God always is with us through our struggles and wouldn't give us anything he knew that we wouldn't be able to handle.

Victoria Sciarra

I believe God wants people on Earth to spread the word of God to bring peace and love to one's neighbors. God is merciful and caring and I want to remember that He will answer my prayers on His own time when He sees fit

Sunday School Update:

Sunday School came to a close on June 9th and for promotion Sunday we did a service project of creating kindness rocks based on how service is how we enact God's great love for the entire world. Some of the rocks are around church, others were taken to places where others would see them and remember that we are all God's people. Wishing everyone a peaceful and blessed summer. Jeanette Baldanza.

Faith @ Home

Did you know that we have a second Trinity website?

While it's been active for a few years – we thought you might need a reminder.

It has a huge assortment of links for Faith Formation resources for people to use at home or with other groups. You can find it at: <http://faith.trinitybrewsterny.org/> or just go to our main webpage (<http://trinitybrewsterny.org/wordpress/>) and click on the link at the top of the page.

Here you can find resources for multi-generational uses, adults, children, teens and young adults. There are Bible resources, devotional links, craft projects and more.

We would invite you to check out these links as well as share any others that you come across that you think might be helpful. Please send any suggested links to Pastor Jen and/or Joanne Icken.

Also, if you would like to share a review, idea or other information from one of this sites, please send it along to us as well.

The “property” of Trinity church encompasses the church building and everything therein such as all the plumbing and air conditioning and electricity that makes modern living so comfortable. We can be thankful that all of those concerns are working well and are in good shape for the foreseeable future. Now that I live in an apartment I have found that I can still enjoy the satisfaction of those “green thumb” pursuits right here on the beautiful grounds at Trinity. I often see some of you folks stop by the flower beds pulling out those stray hitchhikers and freeing up those plants looking up for the sunshine. We have weekly volunteer mowers at work and I’ve seen the kids working along with their parents keeping our lawns and walkways looking very sharp. The hoses are out in their buckets at the side of the fellowship hall and at the rear church entrance. If you see the flowers are in need of a soaking and you feel so inclined just help yourself. The valve to turn on the water is located in the downstairs ladies restroom. I tried to set up a sweeping spray sprinkler and got more water on me than I did the flowers, so I prefer to just use the nozzle and stand there and enjoy the break from all else. It’s summer time and enjoying the outdoors is a blessing like no other. We are blessed with many people who work all summer long in keeping an eye on the property inside and out, seeking out persons looking to rent space for their group activities, arranging for tree removal when they pose a hazard, and taking care of the general maintenance that every church “home” needs. I hesitate to name names because I will surely leave out many who do so much and however you contribute to Trinity, your dedication and efforts are very much appreciated by all of us here at Trinity. Have a blessed summer!

Sincerely,
Peter Donoghue

Leave A Lighter Footprint

School is out. The family is ready for a summer vacation. While packing for a vacation, carry the reduce, reuse, and recycle slogan with you, thinking of ways you can avoid adding to the trash left behind by fellow travelers. Popular destinations attract millions of visitors, who create hundreds of tons of trash requiring removal. Much of the trash are the convenient disposable items, which are tossed after a single use. Two billion plastic razors and blades are thrown out by Americans each year. Replace plastic disposables with a metal safety razor. Men might even try growing a beard (just kidding). On the road, pack lunches and snacks. Although restaurants are working hard to remove plastic forks, spoons, and straws, take-out restaurants still rely on a combination of recyclable/ compostable containers with plastic lids. Replace plastic water bottles with reusable, refillable bottles. On a camping trip, unpack new camping gear at home, reducing the amount of cardboard and plastic brought to the park. If you do not intend to become a serious camping devotee, rent or borrow camping gear. Pack reusable utensils, or wash and reuse plastic utensils instead of discarding them after one use. The most common trash according to park rangers are plastic bags, cups, bottles and straws. Reducing and reusing is still the best way to eliminate the amount of trash in our national parks. When visiting a museum, use your smartphone to download tickets, use the museum map apps or refer to the posted museum signs for directions or guidance. A spokesman for the Louvre listed maps and entrance tickets as the majority of the 1,200 tons of waste accumulated during the year. Although the museum does recycle paper, visitors could reduce the amount of waste by using smart phones for paperless alternatives. Enjoy the summer. Remember the 3 R’s: Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle.

Gospel expressions

You are invited to share your own understanding of the Gospel message in whatever artistic expression you would like. It could be poetry, an artwork in a variety of media (photos, watercolors, pencil drawings, etc.)

Here is the first of our expressions:

Your Word Soup

By Debbie Lyons

Dear Lord, I know that you are here
no matter how I feel
And I must learn to trust Your Word
for it alone is real.

In the deep when it seems so dark and light just can't be found
Your Word Soup you'll never forsake and your love will abound.

In the days when there's confusion
and nothing seems clear Speaking Your Word will make it leave so you again I'll hear.

In the days when the pain won't stop
and I wish I could die
Your Word cries out that you'd help me
if I'd give it a try.

In the deep when my spouse and I can't seem to get along
Your Word says to read it daily and soon we'll sing a song.

In the days when the kids act up
and yelling doesn't cease
Your Word says if I'll rest in it then I'd find perfect peace.

In the days when my heart feels broken and I can't think to pray
Your Word say the Holy Spirit knows just the words to say.

In the days when hot flames threaten to take what I hold dear
Your Word says to trust Only You
and you'll always be near.

In the days when my choices mean that I must walk alone
Your Word says if I put you first
I'll have joy unknown.

In the days when I'm called to love
the ones that drive me nuts
Your Word says I must anyway
no if, ands, or buts.

In the days when I'm full of fear
because of what I've seen
Your Word says true love makes it flee and, on you, I can lean.

In the days when someone's hurting
hiding behind a wall
Your Word says that I must comfort and not drop the ball.

Dear Lord, I thank you for Your Word
and all that it can do
Please help hide it in my heart
so I can be used too.

Trinity Finances

It looks like the Spring showers might be stopping and the lazy days of Summer could be here.

However, being your financial gnome, I always worry about the possibility of the summer doldrums affecting the largesse of our congregation.

Toward this noble act of stewardship, watching your money, I want to take this opportunity to, once again, remind everyone that Trinity's expenses don't take the summer off. So, in the words of the Beatles,

Let me tell you how it will be There's one for you, nineteen for me

*Should five per cent appear too small
Be thankful I don't take it all (1966 Revolver, The Tax Man)*

I'll be meticulously checking everyone's weekly/monthly contributions all summer long,

so DON'T FALL BEHIND.

☺ Enjoy your Summer ☺.

Mision Trip to San Lucas Toliman: Pastor Jen will be traveling with a group from St Andrew's Lutheran Church (Yorktown) on a mission trip to Guatemala (June 23-June 30) . She hopes to post updates on social media.

Some History about the mission: In 1963, Father Greg Schaffer, from the diocese of New Ulm, MN, came to San Lucas Toliman and began work as a parish priest. Responding to the expressed needs of the community he realized that his work as a priest would be broader than he had imagined. He soon started programs in education, healthcare, construction, coffee as well as a visitor's program inviting groups from the United States to walk alongside the people and culture of San Lucas. Fr. Greg died in 2012 and the Friends of San Lucas was born to carry on his legacy of working with the people of San Lucas to alleviate the process of poverty. Currently, the Friends of San Lucas supports the Mission in Guatemala, which employs over 100 people working in all program areas. Almost all of the support for the work of the Mission comes through private donations.
